Gypsy Play at Virginia Samford Theatre
Date: Saturday, July 9
Depart: 1 p.m.
Activity Level: Easy
Fee: $55 (incl. transportation, admission)
Cancellation deadline: Saturday, June 25

Some say Gypsy is the greatest of all American musicals. It’s the story of the dreams and efforts of one hungry, powerhouse of a woman, to get her two daughters into show business. The play is loosely based on the 1957 memoir of famous striptease artist Gypsy Rose Lee. Show time: 2:30 p.m.

Scopes Trial Festival, Dayton, TN
Date: Saturday, July 15
Depart: 8 a.m.
Activity Level: Easy, moderate
Fee: $45 (incl. transportation, admission)
Cancellation deadline: Saturday, July 1

By far, the most celebrated court case in Rhea County and perhaps in all of Tennessee history was the case of the State of Tennessee vs. John Thomas Scopes, which took place in Dayton’s Rhea County Courthouse 10-21 July 1925. Scopes was overshadowed by the famous attorneys who argued the case – William Jennings Bryan and Clarence Darrow – but two of his grand-nieces are expected to attend the festival to meet guests and answer questions about their famous relative. In addition, two authors of books about the trial will be on hand.

Heading to Nashville
Date: Friday, July 28 – Saturday, July 29
Depart: Friday, July 14
Activity Level: Moderate, some walking
Fee: $275 dbl, $348 single
Cancellation deadline: Friday, July 14

We will tour Cheekwood Gardens and see the Downton Abby sets. Return to Nashville for a tour of the Ryman Auditorium and the Country Music Hall of Fame. Spend our final evening in Nashville and enjoy a night on the town.
